Firebugs Destroy Big Barn

Thieves Made Good Haul Here

RULED OUT BY COMMITTEE LOCALS MAY YET PLAY FOR HONORS

Daring Theft of Jewelry at Local Store

Thieves broke the large plate glass display window at the William Moss jewelry store, 943 Schoonmaker avenue, at five o'clock this morning and escaped with jewelry and watches valued at $1 000. Dr. Whitson, who resides in the apartment above the store, heard the noise of the falling glass and gave the alarm but the thieves had made their escape. It was evident that they had used a glass cutter, breaking in the entire window and then took practically all articles on display with the exception of a few alarm clocks. Mr. Moss was notified immediately and he came down to his store, but no trace of the thieves could be learned. It was thought that made their escape down a nearby alley.

The thieves worked quietly and quickly as other occupants of the building were not aware of the robbery until notified by Mr. Moss. A careful search of the vicinity failed to bring any clues and the matter was turned over to the local police, who are making a thorough investigation and they hope to apprehend the miscreants.

While John Silay was on his way home last night up Ninth street, he was accosted by two negroes who took hold of him, evidently with the intention of relieving him of any valuables he might have on his person. He wielded his assailants a fierce blow over their heads and succeeded in frightening them away. The contents of the bucket and basket were destroyed and John went on his way home.

Fire Damage Great

By WEBB MILLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

London, Nov. 29—Damage done in Sinn Fein's fiery attack on English property was figured in millions of dollars today.

Extra troops were assigned to Liverpool where dock fires still smouldered. Police and soldiers mounted guard here following the almost accidental breaking up of an arson plot in a secluded lumber yard.

The Irish Office declared the situation was under control. The most desperate leaders have been captured, it was announced, and evidence obtained will lead to the arrest of others at once.

Soldiers aided today in extinguishing the last of the fires along Liverpool's nine-mile line of docks. The fire department found itself unable to fight all the fires at once and the losses in buildings and supplies stored in them mounted into hundreds of thousands of pounds.

More evidence that the eleven fires were of incendiary origin was discovered today in scientific house-breaking instruments and bolt-cutters, left by the fire bugs.

Police, expecting some such attack, were surprised when so many fires broke out at once. Gangs of four and five men, armed with their house breaking tools, crept along the darkened wharves Saturday night. Gaining entrance to the buildings, they ignited paraffin-soaked sacks which they tossed in among the inflammable goods stored there.

Heavy Fines

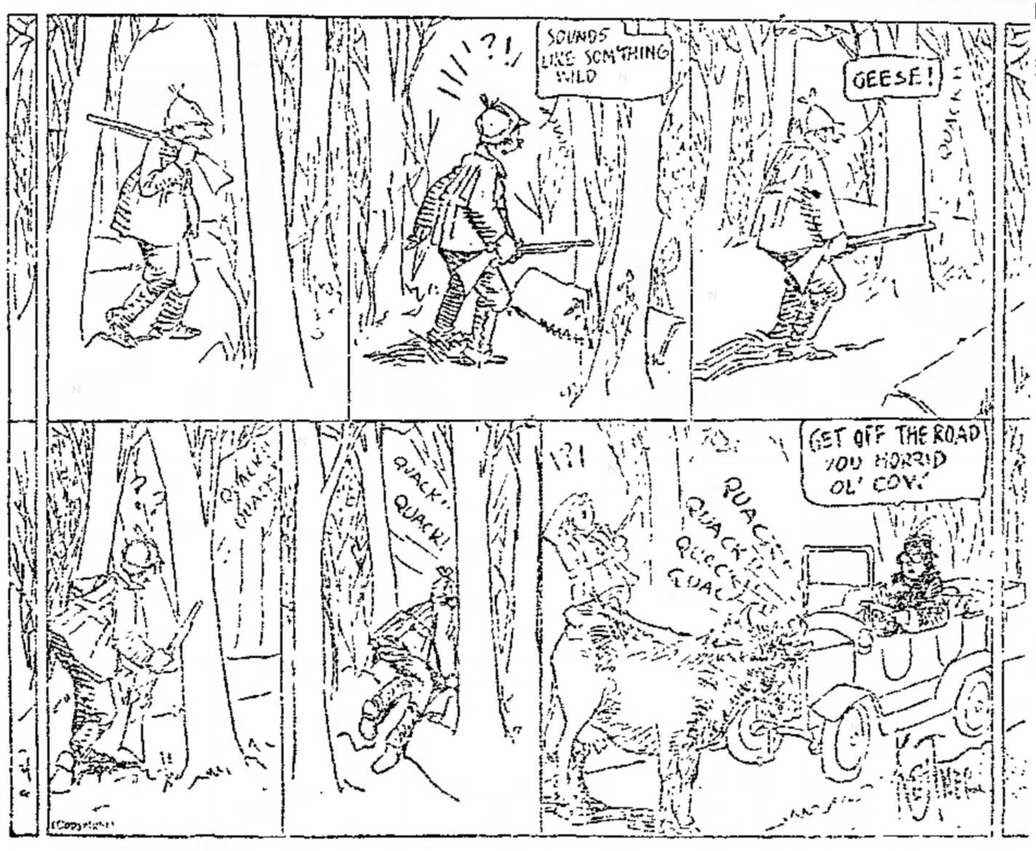
With Burgess Stewart away on a hunting trip, the police court hearings this morning were in charge of Dr. W. D. Hunter, who had little mercy for any offender who happened to be so unfortunate as to face him. The price of common ordinary drunks jumped from $1.00 and costs to $5.00 and costs, while a drunk and disorderly prisoner was fortunate to escape with less than $10.00 and costs.

Frank Zureck and wife, arrested for having a family squabble, paid $10.00 each and costs. Stanley Barzicak of Donora, "a leetle drunk", paid $7.25; John Kelly, a negro, who almost caused a race riot when he attempted to collect ten cents from a storekeeper was fined $10.00 and costs. James Stob, arrested for speeding, was fined $10.00 and costs and five other prisoners, who formed a drunken auto party, paid heavy fines.

Announce Engagement

Announcement was made Saturday at a luncheon of the engagement of Dr. J. Carl Beery and Miss Lenore W. Hughes, well known young people of this city. No date was set for the wedding. The bride-to-be had issued invitations for a luncheon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hughes, on Rock avenue. The home was tastefully decorated with orchids and chrysanthemums. The afternoon was spent playing cards and a dainty lunch was served by Mrs. Hughes, who was assisted by Miss Eloise Beery and Miss Nellie Rodgers. When the ice cream was served the dishes were accompanied by favors in the form of Kewpie Kids with cards announcing the engagement. Guests were present from Monessen, Donora, Belle Vernon, Homestead and Pittsburgh.

The End Of A Perfect Day



MONESSEN AND ROCHESTER FOOT BALL TEAMS HAVE BEST RECORDS FOR SEASON

The football championship of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic League, with a membership of 46 teams will be decided by a post season game between Fifth Avenue High school and Washington High school, according to an announcement made public this morning by Fred Shumacher, chairman of the football trophy committee. In the same announcement it was stated that Monessen and Rochester, the only other logical contenders for the honors had been eliminated despite the fact that both teams eliminated had better records than those to whom the honor of playing in the finals was awarded.

Monessen's treatment at the hands of the Syracuse committee has been anything but satisfactory ever since she became a contender in athletics and the action of this morning is only proof that this committee will not give fair judgment to towns outside of the city limits.

Chairman Shumacher, at a meeting last week notified Coach Townsend that the local team was eligible to compete in the finals and to keep his proteges in training for the event, but evidently pressure was brought to bear from some other source and the locals, who are undoubtedly the strongest team in the league, were ruled out.

The technical point on which they were ruled out was that they had not played sufficient games with other members of the league. Five games are supposed to be played and despite the fact that not one of the Pittsburgh teams approached would give the locals a place on their schedule, Coach Townsend finally secured five league games, only to have one of the teams, Oakmont, cancel at the last moment, realizing that the locals were much too strong for them.

Washington High school was promoted by courtesy after the close of the season last year, but they also refused to play the locals, despite the fact that Monessen traveled to that city for the final game of the season last year. The forfeited game with Oakmont, according to the rules of that league, should be awarded Monessen by a score of 2 to 0. This would give Monessen the five games necessary and in addition to these two victories, she also defeated Morgantown High at California Normal, both of which are considered stronger than any of the W. P. I. A. L. teams.

Monessen's record is far better than either of the teams to which the honors have been awarded. Fifth Avenue has been defeated by the score of two different times and the Washington team was held to a tie score by Charleroi (Pa.) was in turn beat by Uniontown 14 to 0. Both teams may play for the Syracuse cup, but neither can honestly feel that they are champions as there is hardly a school outside of the Pittsburgh district that would not award the honors to Monessen, which team has gone through the season undefeated and scored on held to a tie score.

The W. P. I. A. League has proven a farce and it might be well for Monessen to follow the action of Greensburg, Johnstown and many of the other larger schools and withdraw until such a time as they can be accorded a square deal.

Rochester fans are equally indignant over the treatment they received at the hands of the committee and according to an article in the Pittsburgh papers Sunday, suggest that a game be played between Monessen and Rochester to determine the real champions of the district. They are the only two teams to complete the season undefeated and the contest would decide just who is entitled to the honors over the Washington team and also would give Monessen an opportunity to avenge the defeat handed to another team with a more formidable record than Fifth Avenue. Rochester fans are willing to have the game played on neutral ground and are willing to come to a compromise with the managers of the Monessen team in case of any disagreement. Plans of arranging the contest for Friday or Saturday of this week.

Lynn Barn With Contents Total Loss

Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the big frame barn on the old Lynn homestead near Belle Vernon at 1 o'clock Sunday morning, together with practically all of its contents, consisting of cattle, horses, hay, grain and farm implements.

The fire was discovered by members of the family after it had gained sufficient headway to illuminate the entire surroundings. The homestead is occupied by Sumner, Joseph and Mattie Lynn, brothers and sister. The two brothers rushed to the burning building and succeeded in getting some of the live stock out but five cows and one horse perished in the flames. The entire harvest was stored in the barn together with all of the grain, corn, oats and wheat.

No alarm was sent in as the barn burned too quickly for any of the nearby departments to respond.

When the brothers rushed out of the house they saw an automobile disappear out of the blind lane leading to the buildings onto the public road leading to Fayette City. It is believed that fire bugs responsible for the burning of the barn were traveling in an automobile. The loss is estimated at $5,000.

Institute Opened

Approximately two hundred teachers were enrolled this morning in the High school building for the opening session of the Ninth Annual Teachers Institute of the Monessen Public Schools and the Fifth Annual Session of the Rostraver Township schools. This afternoon the first regular session was being held and this evening the pupils of the local schools will present the pageant, "The Light." The pageant promises to be one of the most attractive of the evening's entertainment and will no doubt tax the capacity of the High school auditorium. The public is urged to attend all the evening entertainments and is cordially invited to attend any or all of the day sessions in order that they may become better acquainted with the methods in teaching young America.

Test Successful

Through the efforts of Mr. Rene Lorraine, who had charge of the screen tests of the Star theatre moving picture, Miss Marie McCaskey has received an offer from the Maryland Producing Co., producers of the famous Ko-Ko comedies. Miss McCaskey took part in the "Thirteenth Proposal," which will be shown at the Star theatre tomorrow and Wednesday and test strips of all those who participated in the photoplay, were sent to the Maryland firm. The director of this company was well pleased with the work of Miss McCaskey and wrote immediately to Mr. Lorraine, asking for a large photograph of the young lady stating that they had a position open for a girl of this type.

Seeking Divorce

Carmen Fortis, of Monessen has filed a bill in equity against his wife, Loretta Fortis. They were married March 15, 1919, and lived together until August 3, 1919. He alleges that on account of cruel and inhuman treatment his life was endangered and that as a result his wife was in the hospital and has not been since.

Threaten Officials

(By United Press)

Dublin, Nov. 29—British officers at Londonderry in anonymous letters today were threatened with assassination if they do not leave Ireland at once. A repetition of the killings in Dublin was promised if they remain.

Irish Office officials declared gunmen from America had arrived in Dublin to co-operate with Sinn Feiners.

Coincidentally with incendiary outbreaks in England came reports today of renewed Sinn Fein activity in Ireland.

Determined attacks were made on police and military patrols; threats were sent to British army officers, and mail cars were robbed.

Irish office authorities declared mail pouches had been rifled frequently in the last week. The theory was that Sinn Fein leaders were making an attempt to obtain information to aid them in future attacks. Several post-offices were ransacked. The Irish Office denied anything of value had been missed in these mail robberies.

Week-end attacks in Ireland included the shooting of Constable Quirk at Waterford by three Sinn Feiners. At Bradford, Mortimer Duggan was shot dead when he ignored a sentry's challenge. A riot broke out in Mullingar when uniformed men paraded the town. Windows were broken and other property damage done. A small boy was wounded before a military patrol arrived to arrest the police offenders.

Comment on the outbreaks in Liverpool and London was withheld by the Irish Office here. The attention of authorities was concentrated on reports of the arrival of foreign gunmen in Dublin. It was believed arrests would be made shortly.

Meanwhile, the prison camps built before and for New Castle for Sinn Fein suspects were approaching completion. Temporary cell rooms here were crowded but patrols continued capturing in prisoners.

Springfield, Mo., Nov. 29—Cropped hoses have no terrors for the fair coeds of Drury College. They are wearing golf stockings this winter instead of long woolen or silk hose.

The fad was started by underclassmates. The stockings are self-supporting due to the elasticity of the tops.

Ad Was Discontinued Replies Too Numerous

On Friday of last week Sales Commissioner Jenkins inserted a small three line advertisement in the classified columns of the paper, "Laborers Wanted." The ad was ordered to appear in three issues but at the end of two days Mr. Jenkins called at the office and ordered it discontinued for the reason that the response was so great that the applicants for jobs could not all crowd into the borough building.

This is but one of the many testimonials of the worth of the Independent as an advertising medium. It demonstrates beyond the semblance of a doubt that the paper is universally read by local people in all walks of life. It goes into the home of the humblest dweller as well as the most influential citizen and successful business man.

During the months of October and so far in November it has carried the heaviest line of advertising of any newspaper in Westmoreland county. Not only does this apply to the papers of the county, but it carried more per week space during the early fall months than any newspaper in the upper Monongahela valley.

The experience of Street Commissioner Jenkins is only one of the many cases of the words of the paper to result successfully within the past few days. Similar testimonials come to us every day from merchants whose stores are crowded for some special bargain placed in the paper to attract people. The thrifty housewife is constantly reading the pages these days in order to make the dollar go as far as it will. Scores heed constantly posted on the meat and grocery ads that set out the prices. The merchant who is abreast of the times and is making reductions consistent with the trend of the times finds the Independent a business getter.

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

PRICE COMBINES

The belief prevails somewhat widely, that the prices of most of the necessaries of life are strictly regulated by combines and trusts and understandings among business men. Of course, some lines of products are not thus controlled. When you see what cuts in the price of shoes, clothing and dry goods have recently been made by enterprising advertised stores, it is obvious that these lines are not subject to combinations. But in some others the consumer is less fortunate.

Efforts to create competition where the same does not exist, have not so far been very successful. It is not generally believed that the consumer has benefited in cases where trusts have been ordered dissolved by the courts. To divide a corporation up into a lot of fragments, when practically the same people own the several fragments, does not seem to accomplish much.

If the doctors or the garage proprietors of a town get together and agree to ask a certain price for certain services, few people would feel called upon to prosecute them. Yet essentially the act does not seem different from that of the heads of a great trust, who decide on uniform prices. It is hard to make a law that shall hit a deer and miss a calf.

Much extortion could be stopped by voluntary action. The business men in any line ought to feel themselves responsible for having that trade conducted in a manner satisfactory to the public. Any dealer who charges profiteering hurts the whole trade, and he should feel the pressure of all his associates to cut it out.

The public will not indefinitely tolerate the artificial raising of prices by combinations. Unless the various trades act to stop it, drastic action is likely to be taken that the business community will regret it.

THE UNEMPLOYED

Business reports indicate that a million or two workers are out of employment. The man who walks the streets and can find nothing to do is meeting one of the most discouraging experiences of life. It is not surprising that he rebels against the social system.

Some of these people are in no wise to blame. Others have helped create the condition of which they complain. Business concerns usually turn off their least efficient people first. Those who have done less work since their pay was doubled by the war, are not in any position to find fault.

Also those who squandered their money on superfluities, helped make capital scarce by their lack of thrift. If money spent extravagantly had been put into banks, many industries now shut down would have been able to secure funds and keep running.

A thrift economy and hard work are the best guarantees of regular industry. Also the capitalist has a heavy responsibility to keep his plant running if he can possibly do so.

THE BIGGEST PROBLEM

Out of the government appropriations for the current fiscal year, 93 per cent will go for preparation for war and paying the costs of past wars. Meanwhile this country is spending only one per cent of its appropriations for education, development and research into better methods.

A business that spent 93 per cent of its money in fighting its competitors, and one per cent in developing its own activities would be considered to be the work of insane minds.

Yet with the world on the edge of fighting, it may not be possible to drop a dollar of preparation for war at this time. But if the human race continues spending its substance in plans for killing each other, it fairly deserves to be exterminated off the planet.

So the one big problem overtopping all others, is that of finding some means of preserving peace. War places on the backs of struggling humanity an impossible burden.

OVER $17,0000 PER MAN

It may be interesting information to some readers that up to June 30, 1920, the cost of maintaining the American Army on the Rhine was $237,000,000. Germany was obligated to pay that cost, but it has contributed only about $34,000. On October 7 the strength of our army of occupation was 14,534 officers and men. With the consummation of peace with Germany, which President Harding has promised to bring about, that force will be brought home immediately.

For the past six months many people have doubted whether they were living in America or the Island of Yap.

Some people can't even look at the swinging door of a restaurant kitchen without sadly reminiscent feelings.

The people who see the dawn of a new day, may be the same ones who won't go home until morning.

Not merely do the roads have to be resurfaced because of automobile traffic, but it becomes necessary to rebuild and strengthen the fences.

It is also complained that the ditches get so filled up with wrecked automobiles, that they won't carry off the rain water.

$10,000 Suit

John M Bash, I N Dixon and Edward Klingensmith, the Westmoreland county poor directors, on Saturday morning filed a suit against the West Penn Street Railway company for $10,000

Recently, the statement of fact sets forth, the railway company, whose lines run along the county farm grades back a distance of four feet or more along the lawn for a distance of 517 feet The complaint sets forth that the county home managmeent had maintained a nice lawn with fine shade trees some of which were very much damaged by this grading Furthermore the grading has left a steep perpendicular wall along the grounds which spoils the scenery.

Belgium Is Struggling To Its Feet

(By United Press)
By P. B. SHEFFIELD
(Written For The United Press)

Brussels, Belgium, Nov. 10—In virtue of number of decrees issued since the armistice, the Belgian Government has steadily continued the undertaking it gave a month prior to the armistice, to make good war damage suffered by its peoples. One of the most interesting categories in this connection are the "little men," those whose loss is covered by a payment of some ten thousand francs (at par $2,000). Ten thousand of these have francs The ftentmaha ha WDiWD received sums totalling 36 million francs. The compensation is mainly used for repairs to houses and contents.

Throughout the country there are societies of war claimants for compensation and these, operating in conjunction with the government delegates, carry out the formalities of filing claims. On satisfactory evidence, the government makes an advance of seventy per cent of the 1914 valu of the destroyed property, plus a sum for reinvestment which is calculated on a basis of 2½% in the whole of the country except West Flanders (the most devastated province) where the advance is 3%. Advances under these heads total 81 million francs and 3,300 houses are thus being either rebuilt or repaired. Claims under 15,000 are settled by money payment; over that sum the government places in the hands of the above mentioned society of federation securit es on which the society or federation makes advances to the interested parties.

All of these operations refer to private property. With regard to claims made by manufacturers holding war vouchers for property seized by the Germans during the occupation, over two thousand claims have been filed and in satisfaction of these the government had advanced on the security of the war vouchers over 256 million francs.

Big concerns of recognized public utility, such as, for example, the National Road Car Company, the water and dock companies, etc., have received advances of some 250 million francs

Under all heads of war damage to persons and property, the total of claims lodged is well over 1,250,000. The largest number come from the Centrai (centre of fighting region) where nearly a quarter of a million claims were filed. To August 31, 1920, the total number of claims settled by all authorities and for all purposes was 74,714, representing a total amount of 1,893 million francs.

In West Flanders alone, 38,700 houses were destroyed and 8,000 damaged so as to be uninhabitable. In the rest of the country the respective figures were 25,000 and 3,500. Some 38,000 acres of land had also been rendered unworkable Churches, town halls, schools, public offices, and other national buildings were down or damaged all over the country. The government plan in the restoration has been to help those that help themselves, by granting special financial help, and making good any local deficit.

Before a single brick could be laid, much preliminary work had to be done, this including restoration of communications, restarting of the water service, supply of temporary housing accommodation, clearing away of ruins, and preparing of ruined land for agriculture. To date two thirds of the agricultural lands destroyed have been restored. Concurrently with the execution of the preliminary works, thousands of houses and huts are being built, or have already been built.

The Minister of the Interior reports that the whole of the government domain, especially as regards communications, is approaching complete restoration and that industrial and commercial establishments are being gradually re-formed. Owing to the complex nature of the matter, restoration of private property is proceeding more slowly

HOUSING PROBLEM CONFERENCE

(By United Press)

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 29—This city will be the scene of the coming annual convention of the National Housing Association, scheduled to meet from December 9th to 11th, inclusive. Between 600 and 1,000 delegates, representing practically every large city in the country, are expected to attend.

The several successful housing projects carried out in Bridgeport are said to be the reason for selecting the city for the convention. These projects will be examined by the delegates.

Among the subjects to be discussed during the convention will be: "Rent Situation;" "Various Methods of Stimulating New Construction;" "Financing the Home Owner;" "Government Housing in its Various Phases;" "Co-operative Ownership of Housing Projects;" "Encouraging Investments in Real Estate Mortgages;" "How Building Associations and Banks Can Help in Financing Home Ownership;" "Relation between Landlords and Tenants;" "The Share of Labor in Encouraging New Building Construction;" "Methods of Reducing Costs of Operation," and New Kinds of Building Material Discovered through War Necessities."

There will be a general discussion of unwise building laws and motion pictures showing a typical English Garden City and its possible application to American needs. The effects on health and morals of overcrowding will also be brought up.

Marry Early and Be Happy at 83

(By United Press)

New Castle, Pa. Nov. 29—"Every one should get married, and when young, make their fortunes together and be a help to each other. It is the only way in which one can go through life happy"

Take it from Phillip V. Jones, boys and girls, that's the one sure receipt for lifelong bliss. And Jones ought to know. 83 years young, married 63 years and as much in love with Mrs. Jones as the day they were married in 1857 with all the gorgeousness and splendor of a church wedding in South Wales, their birthplace. Mrs. Jones is one year younger than her husband.

In 1863 the couple came to America and settled in New Castle. After that "we worked hard and played hard," said "Ma" Jones. "I have come through 63 years of married life and would not give up one of my joys or sorrows and there have been many of them. I urge every girl to pick out the right man and marry him.

"I should say the women do pick out the men" with a little grin at "pa". "The man never know what's happening to them."

The couple are the parents of ten children.

Can You Answer Yes?

In the business of getting on in life saving is admittedly of far greater importance than earning or spending.

Do you save? Do you save haphazardly? Or do you save and bank consistently?

When you answer yes to the last query, you can begin to expect big things of the future.
